

DR DAVID L WILLIAMS MA MEd VetMD PhD DECAWBM(AW) CertVOphthal CertWEL FHEA FRSB FRCVS

Associate lecturer in Veterinary Ophthalmology, Department of Veterinary Medicine, University of Cambridge; Fellow and Director of Studies, Veterinary Medicine and Pathology, St John's College, Cambridge

David Williams teaches at Cambridge Vet School, running the ophthalmology clinic and also dealing with exotic species there. He also has a particularly interest in animal welfare and ethics and is a diplomate of the European College of Animal Welfare and Behaviour Medicine.

He is currently undertaking a doctorate in the Faculty of Education in Cambridge on how best to teach ethics to veterinary students. He has a particular interests in the welfare of zoo animals and exotic species and the impact his Christian faith should have on the ethics of the veterinary medicine he practices.

www.CAWSEL.com

@CAWSEL1
#CAWSEL17